

Looking for the best pool of candidates so your firm can increase revenue, reduce costs and improve your reputation?

We can help!

Finding Good Candidates is Tough

Getting your candidates to interview well is an even bigger challenge. Recruiters help your business most when they're prospecting for openings and candidates. So why waste their time teaching candidates how to interview?

"Ace that Interview" is a workshop with a proven track record for helping people interview better. No more saying the wrong thing, showing up unprepared or acting inappropriately during an interview – it hurts your firm's reputation when candidates do these things. Instead, your candidates will shine, impress your clients and give your recruiters more time to place clients.

Benefits:

We can train your existing candidates or set up workshops in any location that you want to target as way to recruit more candidates. Either way, your firm benefits in the following ways:

- It improves your firm's reputation. Sending an unprepared candidate to an interview reflects poorly on your firm. However, constantly sending in candidates that interview well will result in your client having to meet with fewer candidates and will give your firm a strong reputation.
- It gives your firm a strong pool of candidates. In a competitive job market, multiple recruiters may be vying to fill the same position. Having the candidates that are not only a good fit but can communicate that they fit well during an interview will increase the chances of your candidate getting the offer.
- It helps you place your candidates faster. Candidates that interview well land jobs with fewer interviews. This results in faster placement, less recruiter time per candidate and less costs for the firm.
- It gives recruiters more time to land more candidates and more positions. Instead of the individual recruiter using their time to teach candidates how to interview, they can spend more time doing the things that make the firm more money: finding jobs and finding candidates.
- It makes your firm more attractive to good candidates. Many strong candidates have been in the same position for years and might be rusty on their interview skills. This workshop can be used to attract more candidates.
